

A child's drawing of a queen's crown and dress, surrounded by colorful scribbles. The crown is drawn in red and pink, and the dress is drawn in green and yellow. There are also several large, colorful scribbles in blue, red, pink, and yellow around the central drawing.

The Irish Queen

By: Eleanor O'Connor

My book is dedicated to

Bill and Mary
John Boyle O'Reilly Club

Have you ever done Irish step dancing? I can tell you all about it.

I do Irish dancing at the John Boyle O'Reilly Club of Irish dancing.

A husband and wife own it. Their names are Bill and Mary. Bill teaches and Mary does the music.

We do a 3 hand dance. I do it with Brenna and Clara. Then we do a 4 hand dance with Natalie, Nora and Lenox.

We do the grand finally. We do 16 threes then we do round and out. Last, we do toe, hop, toe.

I love Irish step dance!!!

About the Author

My name is Eleanor O'Connor.

I am 7 years old and in first grade.

I like to play softball and Irish step dance.

When I grow up, I hope to be a teacher

because I love teaching kids.